

BRITISH JOURNAL OF INDUSTRIAL RELATIONS

ISSN 0007-1080, e-ISSN 1467-8543

Vol. 60, n. 2, June 2022

Consulta en línea desde Intranet

WELL-BEING AT WORK

- Trade unions and the well-being of workers 255
David G. Blanchflower, Alex Bryson and Colin Green
- Revisiting the gender job satisfaction paradox: The roots seem to run deep 278
Maryam Dilmaghani
- The intensification of work in Europe: A multilevel analysis 324
Dragoş Adăscăliţei, Jason Heyes and Pedro Mendonça
- Customer aggression, employee voice and quit rates: Evidence from the frontline service workforce 348
Xiangmin Liu, Danielle D. van Jaarsveld and Yoshio Yanadori

JOB TRAINING

- Comparative institutional disadvantage: Small firms and vocational training in the British manufacturing sector in comparative perspective 371
Chiara Benassi, Niccolò Durazzi and Johann Fortwengel
- Job mobility and heterogeneous returns to apprenticeship training in Italy 391
Giorgio d'Agostino, Michele Raitano and Margherita Scarlato

ORIGINAL ARTICLES

- Owners, external managers and industrial relations in German establishments 424
Arnd Kölling and Claus Schnabel
- Global union federations on affiliates' websites: Forces shaping unions'
global organisational identity 444
Lorenzo Frangi and Tingting Zhang

- Book Reviews 467