

INTERNATIONAL SOCIAL SECURITY REVIEW

e-ISSN 1468-246X

Vol. 71, n. 3, October-December 2018

Consulta en línea desde Intranet

Street-level bureaucracy in welfare-to-work in Europe

Original Articles

Introduction: Frontline delivery of welfare-to-work in different European contexts
Rik van Berkel, Flemming Larsen, Dorte Caswell

A knowledge hierarchy in labour and welfare services? Evidence-based and practice-based knowledge in frontline service innovation
Eric Breit, Knut Fossetøl, Eirin Pedersen

Co-production and social innovation in street-level employability services: Lessons from services with lone parents in Scotland
Colin Lindsay, Sarah Pearson, Elaine Batty, Anne Marie Cullen, Will Eadson

Activating the most disadvantaged youth in Switzerland: Administratively too risky, politically too costly?
Delia Pisoni

Organizational governance of activation policy: Transparency as an organizational ideal in a Swedish welfare agency
Katarina Hollertz, Kerstin Jacobsson, Ida Seing

Does individualized employment support deliver what is promised? Findings from three European cities
Deborah Rice, Vanesa Fuertes, Lara Monticelli

Book Review

Gilbert, Neil. Never enough: Capitalism and the progressive spirit. Oxford, Oxford University Press, 2017. 219 pp. ISBN 978-01-9936-133-5.
Hedva Sarfati

Index

Index for 2018

Issue Information

Issue Information