

ECONOMIC AND INDUSTRIAL DEMOCRACY

ISSN 0143-831X, e-ISSN 1461-7099

Vol. 41, n. 4, November 2020

Consulta en línea desde Intranet

Editorial

Editorial Lars Magnusson and Jan Ottosson	773
--	-----

Papers

Containing, embracing and hyper-activating Britishness: British-based foreign-owned firms Ian Clark	775
Does workplace partnership deliver mutual gains at work? George Saridakis, Yanqing Lai and Stewart Johnstone	797
Labour market segmentation and mobility as determinants of trade union membership: A study from Denmark Carsten Strøby Jensen	824
Voice through exit: Changing working conditions by independent contractors' participation Caroline Ruiner, Maximiliane Wilkesmann and Birgit Apitzsch	839
Austerity HRM practices, work deterioration and possible recovery policies: A cross-European survey in the airport workplace Elen Paraskevi Paraschi and Antonios Georgopoulos	860
Towards 'multi-collar' unionism: Cases of trespassing professionals in Norwegian industrial relations Johan E Ravn and Lisbeth Øyum	887
How to retain motivated employees in their jobs? Ludivine Martin	910

Changing employment dynamics within the creative city: Exploring the role of 'ordinary people' within the changing city landscape Tom Baum	954
Advancing gender equality in the construction sector through public procurement: Making effective use of responsive regulation Tessa Wright and Hazel Conley	975