

EUROPEAN LABOUR LAW JOURNAL

ISSN 2013-9525

Vol. 12, n. 4, December 2021

Consulta en línea desde Intranet

Special Issue Contributions

Special issue introduction: Collective redress for the enforcement of labour law Zane Rasnača	405
Collective redress in labour and social law disputes: An (attractive) option for the EU? Zane Rasnača	415
Collective access to national courts for labour law and social policy disputes: Austria Elisabeth Brameshuber and Ines Kager	436
Collective redress and workers' rights in the Netherlands Vivian Bij de Vaate	455
Collective redress and workers' rights in Slovenia Barbara Kresal	475
United we stand, divided we sue: Collective access to court for labour and social security claims in Sweden Anna Wallerman Ghavanini	492

Academic Contributions

The right to request flexible working arrangements under the Work-life Balance Directive – A comparative perspective Lisa Waddington and Mark Bell	508
Criminalisation as a response to low wages and labour market exploitation in Sweden Erik Sjödin	529
On the obligation to make reasonable accommodation for an employee with a disability Katja Karjalainen and Marjo Ylhäinen	547

European Development

The conditions of access to parental leave in the EU: An adequate delimitation of qualifying periods by the Court of Justice? Miguel De la Corte-Rodríguez	564
--	-----