

OECD ECONOMIC SURVEYS

BELGIUM

ISSN 0376-6438, e-ISSN 1609-7513

June 2022

Consulta en línea desde Intranet

Foreword	3
Executive summary	9
1 Key Policy Insights	14
Policies have enabled a robust recovery from the pandemic, but risks have intensified	18
The financial sector should be monitored closely	28
The recovery plans are an opportunity to promote investment and reforms	31
The crisis accentuated medium-term fiscal sustainability challenges	34
Improving the fiscal framework and public spending efficiency	36
Implementing a comprehensive and revenue-neutral tax reform	39
Containing aging costs	41
Boosting reallocation and productivity growth	45
Enhancing links between wages and productivity at the firm and worker level	46
Improving the business environment	47
Getting the most out of digitalisation reforms	49
Further strengthening the fight against corruption	55
Bold efforts are needed to advance the green and energy transition	58
References	66
2 Improving economic opportunities for all	72
Barriers to economic opportunities in Belgium	76
Low labour market transitions hinder upward income mobility	76
Inequalities of opportunity in compulsory education drag on intergenerational mobility	79
Lack of adequate affordable housing contributes to the persistence of low incomes	80
Improving the labour market outcomes of vulnerable groups	82
Enhancing and recognising skills outside of formal education	85
Making activation work for all	89
Strengthening work incentives for low-income single parents and second earners	94
Enhancing equal opportunities in compulsory education	96
Attenuating the negative consequences of free school choice	101
Increasing mobility between general and vocational tracks	102
Providing teachers with stronger incentives	104
Promoting affordability and quality on the housing market	106
Improving the effectiveness of housing support for low-income households	107
Easing housing price pressures through more efficient regulation	110
Addressing the distributional consequences of energy-efficiency upgrading	111
References	115