

LABOR STUDIES JOURNAL

ISSN 0160-449X, e-ISSN 1538-9758

Vol. 50, n. 2, June 2025

Consulta en línea desde Intranet

Special Issue: A Post-2024 U.S. Presidential Election Analysis of Union and Worker Voting

Introduction

What Happened Again? A Post-2024 U.S. Presidential Election Analysis 101
Robert Bruno

Special Issue Articles

Three Lessons From the 2024 Election in Wisconsin 105
Ericka Wills

Labor in Michigan in 2024 112
Ray Gibney, Frank Goeddeke, and Marick Masters

Working Class and Union Voters' Role in the 2024 Pennsylvania Presidential Election 122
Paul F. Clark

What Trump 2.0 Means for Women's Bodies 136
Emily E. LB. Twarog

The New Nadir, Black Workers and the Cannibalization of the Grassroots Ecosystem: Donald Trump and the 2024 Election 142
Augustus Wood

Latino Workers, the 2024 Presidential Election and the Future of the Labor Movement 153
Paul Ortiz

Class Dealignment, Multiracial Workers, and Labor's Future After Trump's Reelection 166
Victor G. Devinatz

Labor Desperately Needs a New Strategy 175
Eric Blanc

Labour Relations in the United Kingdom and United States of America: Separated by Much More than a Common Language? 182
Gregor Gall